Hamlin Ships 39 Cars Wheat; 95% Of Crop In

In a survey made early this week by a Herald reporter an estimated 95 per cent of the 1948 crop of wheat is said to be in already.

A check of cars shipped with both railroads companies showed a total of 39 cars Santa Fe Railway had 35; MKT had shipped four.

Because of lack of rain Hamlin's crop has fizzled very much as Stamford area and Haskell has already shipped up in the 40 last week.

Most combining in the area is finished or will be by early next week.

Teacher Group to Push Legislative For Schools Aid

A tentative five-point legislative program aimed at improving public schools will be sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association in the next Legislature.

The program was set out in a letter mailed Wednesday by the association to the 41,000 members of the organization, more than 50 of which were received in Scurry County by members. It was signed by Miss Emma Mae Brotze, president; B. B. Cobb, secretary; and Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director.

The letter called attention to the needs of the public school system as seen by the teachers association, as follows:

An extension of the equalization of rural aid law to allow a greater number of poorly financed schools to qualify, thus enabling them to pay the minimum salary of $2,000 for teachers with BA degrees, as provided by the last Legislature, and maintain modern school systems.

Increasing the total appropriation for schools receiving equalization aid.

Increasing pay for all teachers on a basis yet to be determined.

Passage of a law providing better teacher certification standards, and teacher tenure.

A mandatory minimum cumulative sick leave law.

Important Don'ts Told Of Children Wages, Hours Given by Man

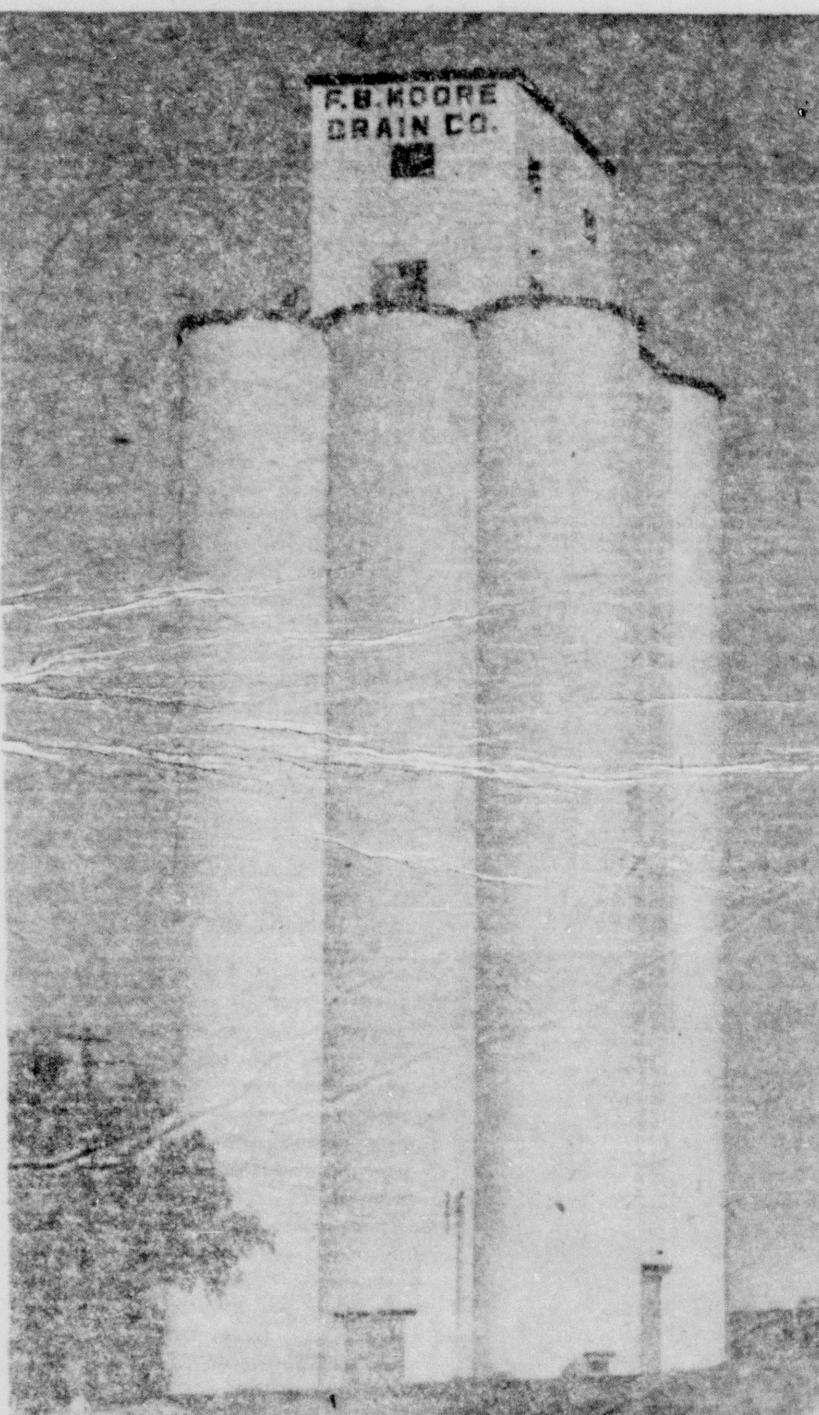

Some of the important "don'ts" for employers of Hamlin area and the rest of the State on the employment of minors during the summer vacation period were listed today by William J. Rogers, regional director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, in the five Southwestern states. He advises employers subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal wage and hour law):

Don't permit children 14-15 years old to work more than 40 hours a week when school is not in session or more than three hours a day and 18 hours a week when school is in session.

Don't permit 14 and 15 years old to work between seven p. m. and seven a. m.

They Will Tell Press About Public

SPOTLIGHT BRIGADE

The newspaper's broad appeal to the public, through editorial policy, classified advertising, display advertising and circulation, will be stressed when Texas publishers convene for their 69th Annual Convention in San Antonio, June 18 and 19. Pictured above are four of the men who will address the convention. Left to right, they are: Ralph Nicholson, publisher of the New Orleans Item, who will deliver a luncheon address on the importance of an unbiased editorial policy, W. H. Conrad, published of the Medford (Wis.) Walker Sausay of New Orleans, head of one of the largest advertising agencies in the South, will talk about display advertising in an address titled, "Where Do We Go From Here," and E. H. Pierce, publisher of the Jasper (Ala.) Mountain Eagle, and president of the Alabama Press Association, will explain the method of building newspaper circulation which has gained readers by the score for his publication.

Cancer Drive By V.F.W. Stands at Two-Thirds Quota

According to a report from Clyde Huff, commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 6014 Hamlin is about $100 short of its quota of $300 for the American Cancer Drive which is nationwide in extent.

Local post has only worked last Friday evening on the drive and Huff states we should go over the top for such a worthy cause for someone dies by the dreaded disease every three minutes.

Total to date stands at $191, just $109 short of our goal—. Have you helped? Do so when they come around—you may be next.

The amount was short mainly because several businesses were not gotten to in time to make their donations and several others were out of town.

In a national report to The Herald about 55 counties have gone over their goal but as a whole about 25 per cent short of the money need to insure an adequate and increased program of education, research and service in the coming year.

W P Hoby, state chairman stated further, "Sixty per cent of all money collected is used in Texas for facilities which will soon cover all of the state's counties and that 25 per cent is used in research projects which he is convinced will someday determine the cause and cure for all cancer."

Most Farm Products Bring Steady to Strong Prices at Markets Last Week

Most farm products brought steady to strong prices at Southwest markets last week, except for wheat and milo losses it was reported by the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration to The Herald early this week.

Cotton hovered around 37.75 cents per pound for middling 15-16 inch offerings, with Monday's price about 50 cents per bushel less than June 1, but around $5 per bushel higher than a year ago at this time at Dallas.

Heavy receipts of new wheat dropped prices to $2.39 per bushel at Texas common points Monday, the lowest since last August. Milo declined 12 cents to $3.68 to $3.73 per hundred pounds as the new crop started moving from South Texas. Oats were stronger around $1.29 to $1.32 at Fort Worth. Barley gained about four cents as corn declined as much.

Last week's trading in Southwest egg and poultry markets showed some improvement. Monday's prices held this firm tone with lighter supplies of farm run eggs quoted mostly at 36 to 38 cents per dozen. New Orleans paid around 43 cents for all white current receipts. Fryers ranged from 38 to 41 cents on the farm. Turkeys found good demand at 38 cents for toms and 40 for hens at $33.257 at Denver.

Heifers reached an all-time high at 38 cents for toms and 40 for hens at $33.257 at Denver.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Israel Registers Diplomatic Victory By Agreeing to 'Cease Fire' Order; Lewis Quits First Coal Conference

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

PALESTINE:

Diplomacy

What the Jews of Israel lacked in armed strength to resist Arab attacks against their new state they had made up in shrewd diplomacy.

It was just possible that the decisive blow of the Palestine war was struck when Israel, foreseeing military defeat, agreed to order its army to cease fire on all Palestine fronts if the Arabs would do the same.

That development, which took place as the battle for Jerusalem entered its sixth day in an unholy atmosphere of rattling guns, bursting shell and violent death, made the most favorable impression possible in the United Nations.

Thus having the onus of prolonging the Palestine fighting shifted suddenly to their shoulders alone, the Arabs were put on the spot in the U. N. and in world public opinion.

It was a clever diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Jews but, at least at the outset of this new line of circumstances, the Arabs were having none of it. They reiterated their determination to wrest all Palestine from control of the Jews.

Actually, all the Jews had done was to issue a surprise cease fire order in compliance with a U. N. security council request that the fighting be brought to a halt.

Neither the security council nor anyone else had expected the request to be observed.

But that put it up to the Arabs who, faced with a deadline set by the U. N., were having trouble deciding whether or not to cease fire.

If they stopped fighting now they would have done so without attaining their prime objective—the revoking of Israel's claim to sovereign statehood. If they continued the war beyond the deadline they would be laying themselves open to possible security council sanctions of the economic variety.

SECURITY:

Desperate Plight

President Truman came up with another sound plank to reinforce his campaign platform when he demanded that congress overhaul and broaden the social security program.

To relieve the "desperate" plight of the aged and needy in this inflationary period he called for a 50 per cent increase in old age insurance benefits and asked that 20 million more persons be protected.

He offered a five point program and said he wanted "quick action" on it. For three years, the President pointed out with some irritation, similar requests on his part have been shunted aside. This time he was asking:

1. A 50 per cent increase "at least" in old age and survivors' insurance benefits; allowing pensioners to earn up to $40 a month instead of $15 without losing benefits; raising of the tax rate from 1 per cent to 1 1/2 per cent next January 1.

2. Extension of coverage to farm and domestic workers, the self-employed and others not now covered.

3. Broadening of unemployment insurance to cover employees of small firms (having fewer than eight workers), federal employees and others.

4. Disability insurance to protect workers from loss of earnings caused by sickness and injuries.

5. Increased federal benefits to match state aid for dependent children, the needy, aged and blind.

Whatever his motives in presenting the problem of inadequate social security benefits again at this time, Mr. Truman did have a good, even a noble, point.

"People whose sole income is from social security payments have just about reached the breaking point. All of them face a desperate struggle in trying to procure bare necessities at present prices."

Both President Truman and the aged and needy were hoping fervently that congress would be able to squeeze social security legislation into the crowded docket it had prepared for the month preceding adjournment.

As for congress itself, it was on the fence again.

ECONOMICS:

Wage-Price

While prices continue to climb steadily, wage increases are beginning to show signs of levelling off, says the latest department of commerce report on inflation.

Possibility of a business recession, and with it the prospect for lower prices, vanished like mist in the sun after the foreign aid and military preparedness programs began to take shape in March, the department survey revealed.

Walkout

This photograph of the west end of John L. Lewis going east out of a door is perhaps symbolic of trouble to come in the nation's soft coal mines. First conference between the United Mine Workers and the coal producers on the miners' 1948 contract ended in frustration when Lewis walked out after refusing to seat a representative of the Southern Coal Producers association at the parley.

NO CONFERENCE:

Lewis Again

It was all typically Lewisian.

"I make the observation that there is now no conference," quoth John L., chief of the soft coal miners, as he walked grandly out on the first meeting to negotiate a new contract between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

UMW's present contract expires June 30.

Lewis broke up the discussion on 1948 wage agreements when he objected to seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, at the conference and was outvoted by the operators.

He was not against Moody personally. Officially, his union's position was that the 14 regional organizations which comprise the Southern association must bargain in 14 separate groups, rather than delegate bargaining authority to the all-inclusive association.

According to Lewis' accepted pattern of operation, his bark at the Southern Coal Producers was the opening tactical stroke in his 1948 campaign for an improved miners' contract.

Following that, he could sit back and present the UMW wage demands in his own good time. Then, if the coal operators did not accede, he could call the annual strike.

Lewis knew his position was good. The UMW's recent pension walkout had left the nation's coal reserves seriously depleted. By the time June 30 rolled around soft coal stocks would not yet have been built up to the point where industry could stand a long strike.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, it looked like this would develop into another injunction case.

The union still is under an 80 day court injunction prohibiting renewal of the pension strike; but the court might rule that another walkout would be a brand new strike. In that case a new injunction might have to be sought by the government under Taft-Hartley procedure.

HARVEST:

European

Europe may look forward to possibly its best year since the war if food production prospects continue to be as favorable as they are right now.

U. S. agriculture department said that the continent will produce a larger part of its food needs this year than it did last year and that the crop outlook was good over most of Europe and the Soviet Union early in May.

Prospects indicate a considerably larger crop of bread grains—wheat and rye—than last year's desperately small one. A severe winter killed most of Europe's winter wheat and rye last year.

European production of bread grains may surpass 1.8 billion bushels, which was the size of the 1946 crop, largest since the war. Production last year dropped to about 1.5 billion bushels, compared with a 2.3 billion average before the war.

Long Voyage

Previous flight range records paled into insignificance when an air force B-36 superbomber flew an unprecedented 8,000 miles nonstop with a dummy bomb load of about five tons. It was aloft for a day and a half.

The B-36 returned to the ground with about 1,200 gallons of gasoline remaining in its tanks, enough to keep it aloft another two or three hours if necessary.

DAIRYING:
To a Crisis

While the U. S. dairy industry was busy promoting its 12th annual June Dairy Month for the purpose of selling more milk, butter, cheese and ice cream it also was taking a long, critical look behind the scenes and not liking what it saw.

Industry analysts had spotted what appeared to be a dangerous trend. In its simplest form the trend could be defined as an inexorable increase in the U. S. population.

At the root of the problem was a stubbornly entrenched economic condition whose factors were the war, widespread hunger abroad and domestic inflation.

Continuing high prices for beef and veal have been instrumental in sending many dairy cows or potential dairy cows to the slaughter house. Too many American dairy farmers have discovered how they could reduce their herds—drastically, put more land into money-making grain crops, realize a greater profit and still have more leisure time.

Adding those conditions to the fact that during the past few years the nation has experienced about a 45 per cent increase in its birth rate, the dairy industry came up with a grim conclusion: If these circumstances continue at the present rate, and there is every likelihood that they will, by 1952 the U. S. will be approaching the critical point at which it no longer will be able to produce enough milk to satisfy its own needs.

That, according to some prognosticators, might mean strict rationing in a land which hitherto had literally flowed with milk and honey.

Biggest Switch

Billboard advertising will reach a new spectacular extreme on Chicago's Lake Shore drive this July when the switch is thrown to turn on the lights of the world's largest sign—114 feet high and 210 feet wide. A mile and a half of neon tubing, illuminating letters 38 to 58 feet high, will flash the name of a spirited product which a certain distillery wants everybody to switch to.

POLITICS:

The Race

In Oregon, where the last presidential primary of this campaign year was held in an atmosphere of political hoopla, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was voted more likely to succeed than Harold Stassen.

Whether he would or not remained an open question, but it was certain that his political complexion had taken on a more sanguine hue as a result of the Oregon balloting.

Stassen, who had won spectacular primary victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska over Taft and Dewey, his chief rivals for the GOP nomination, and then had received a borderline setback at the hands of Taft forces in Ohio, at last had suffered a clear-cut defeat.

Oregon wasn't going to do Stassen any good. Having had to buck organized Republican opposition all the way along, he apparently had estimated that his best chance of procuring the nomination lay in building up sufficient prestige and momentum during the primary campaigns to stampede the June 21 convention.

However, he still will go to the national convention with at least 200 delegates pledged to support him on the first ballot. So, for that matter, will Dewey. A total of 548 convention votes is required for nomination.

Electoral year politics may wreck a long-standing bi-partisan agricultural policy—that and the bitter feeling engendered among the agriculture bloc by the oleo battle.

President Truman has called for a broad long-range agricultural bill. The GOP steering committee has belatedly done likewise on the theory that they should go to the farmers with a program of their own. Meantime, reprisals are in order against cotton-seed farmers, and Senator Aiken of Vermont has introduced a farm bill which follows largely the program laid down by former agricultural secretary Clinton Anderson and which has both GOP and Democratic support.

It also follows generally the President's proposals. Difference is, the President gave the Democratic prewar farm program credit for postwar farm prosperity and he tied in the administration's reciprocal trade agreements act as essential for promoting farm exports and took a crack at the GOP criticism of farm cooperatives.

Social Security

UNLESS this congress does an about-face on the social security issue, which appears unlikely, this reporter's opinion is that the question of social security will become one of the important issues in the coming presidential campaign.

The social security act goes back to 1935, 13 years ago. Backbone of the act was the system of insurance through which the government collects from the worker and the employer an equal percentage of each payroll and at 65 years of age the employee would be eligible for retirement benefits based on his earnings.

Objective of the act was to provide income for aged persons so that they need not apply for relief. Another section of the act provided for old age assistance. In the 79th congress, the last Democratic controlled congress, a study was made and an attempt fostered to extend the provisions of social security but a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans prevented action.

In this congress, Republican controlled, all action has been away from extending social security rather than toward increasing its provisions. Some sources charge that the Republican party would like to see the whole act scrapped.

At any rate this congress has been content with "freezing" social security taxes and has taken several thousand persons from under the act rather than bringing more persons under its insurance provisions.

As a result, after 13 years less than half of all retired men of 65 years or more are receiving benefits from the old age and survivors insurance or the specific retirement systems of railroad and government workers. Average payment was only $24.90 per month.

In contrast, the average payment for an old person receiving old age assistance, relief based on need, was $37.42 per month. While about 1.9 million were receiving insurance payments, more than 2.2 million were getting old age assistance which was $1.5 million less than the old age assistance.

It is clear that one of the basic objectives of the social security program, to do away with as much need for relief as possible by building up an insurance system which would pay adequate benefits, is meeting with only mediocre success.

Reason for this is the refusal of congress (1) to increase the tax provision from 1 per cent, and (2) to extend the provisions bringing more persons under the program. At present about 34 million persons are covered by old age and survivors insurance which includes most workers in commerce and industry. But there are 22 million left out including 5 million farm operators, 1.6 million farm laborers, 1.7 million domestic servants, 6 million self employed, 2 million federal employees and 3 million state and local government employees.

My mother should have most of the blame for my bad handwriting, just as she is to blame for the fact that I can write at all. She was herself a writer and, unique as it was in those good old days, she possessed a typewriter, a stubby little affair, affectionately known as "the Blick."

Of course it was quite improper to expose a child of pre-school age to a typewriter. It was not my mother's fault. Back in the '90s, some of us weren't vaccinated for anything, even mild in interest, is or will be recorded on the faded pages of my journals, and secondly, because I write such a vile hand that I can decipher only a few lines here and there myself.

Sometimes my old diaries, even against me, I have two out—hardly anything, even of mild interest, is or will be recorded on the faded pages of my journals, and secondly, because I write such a vile hand that I can decipher only a few lines here and there myself.

Frank Leahy make the material great? Or does Leahy make Leahy great? I'll let you answer that one.

There are at least two coaches I know who have the jump on Leahy or any other coach you can mention in the way of what you might call "a favorable press." Which isn't unimportant. These two men are Herman Hickman, now of Yale, and Bo McMillin, now of the Detroit Lions.

Hickman and McMillin have left two big gaps at Army and Indiana, where they have been big factors not only as coaches, but in the way of popular appeal.

In this season on ahead both Hickman and McMillin are heading for rough roads of travel. Hickman will need all of his art as a star line coach to give Yale a first-class line. The Blue has the backs, but the line material of other years is missing—none of those big guards and tackles is lingering under the elms.

McMillin has many notches to climb before his Lions are up with the Cardinals, Bears, Eagles and Giants—to mention only a few. But they still will draw a good press and hold the loyalty of their supporters for a year at least—whatever happens. When you can do that in a game as frenzied as football, you have to be popular.

Diary Doesn't Have to Tell Earth-Shaking Occurrences

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—The nation, and particularly the nation's capital, where we are highly national and international-conscious, is suffering as never before from the result of memories, good and bad. The Roosevelt epoch produced a rash of reminiscences—200 books about FDR, 32 of them just since his death.

Currently we have with us the Churchill war memoirs, as they are called, although when I was young and read "The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes," I thought a memoir was something printed after a man's death. Of course Sherlock came back, so I suppose that legitimizes the terminology.

Winston Churchill was a great diary-keeper, as was his fellow-countryman, Samuel Pepys, whose stuff was so hot that the British government still hasn't released all of it. Franklin Roosevelt never kept a diary. His secretary of the treasury made up for this lack. Henry Morganthau assembled 900 volumes of about 350 pages each, totaling about 80 million words. The task must have kept three stenographers a day working in relays. He had the diaries bound, some said at government expense, although I daresay he paid for it in the end.

Born at Chalk Mountain, Erath County, he is a native of the appellate district, September 28, 1899. Collings attended public school at Glen Rose and was graduated from high school there. Sleep is a mystery. Someone said that man spends one-third of his lifetime asleep and yet fears to die.

But the mystery of sleep is its perverseness. Shakespeare has a care-worn king proclaim that slumber comes to the lad at the giddy mast when to nod even a moment may mean death but avoids the couches of monarchs.

Shakespeare by no means exhausted the possibilities. For example why is it that I can sit in an unshushed chair in the reading room of a public library and drop into a doze (or can, after the cold boiled ham and insipid apple pie of a Rotary Club luncheon, find my head grow heavy and suddenly "come to" with the realization that I have been snoozing while the speaker of the day was saving the world—and yet, let me lie down at night on a bed in a hotel room which I am paying $4 and I have had a hearty dinner, if the man in the next room is talking over the phone and his voice comes dimly through a wall, it keeps me awake?

I can slumber. But when the porter has made down the berth and I am arrayed in pajamas and all is dark, lot sleep is far away.

But if I'm driving at night, I may become so drowsy that I have to thrust my head out the window in the cool air, stop at a roadside cafe and drink a cup of coffee but still have to fight against falling to sleep at the wheel and so give up and stop at a hotel—and then become wide awake until almost dawn. Why can't I go to sleep? But don't try to tell me; probably I'd be asleep before the explanation was half finished.

Business in Texas Resumes Upward After Early Slack

After hesitating for the first three months of the year, Hamlin area and Texas businesses in April resumed its upward trend, as reported to The Herald by Dr. John R. Stockton, statistician for the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The composite index of business activity compiled by the Bureau rose 22 per cent from March to bring it to 216, the highest point reached since the end of the war.

One of the significant characteristics of the rise in the April index is the fact that all but one of the components increased. Sales of department and appeal stores declined 2 per cent, after adjustment for seasonal variation. Miscellaneous freight carloading in the southwestern district rose 2 per cent, bringing the index to 162, a fraction below the postwar peak reached in December 1947.

Crude runs to stills increased 4 per cent from March, to establish postwar high of 182. Electric power consumption gained 4 per cent to bring the index to 312, although this point was below the February high of 326.

The index of employment rose to 124, an increase of 4 per cent over March, but still below December 1947, when the index stood at 125. Also below December was the index of pay rolls; but at 245 for April it was three per cent above March.

During the past twelve months the composite index has risen 14 per cent, with a gain registered in all of the components. The largest gain was in crude runs to stills which in April was 37 per cent; sales were up 23 per cent, and electric power consumption, 16 per cent. Three of the components increased less than the average for the composite: pay rolls, 12 per cent; miscellaneous freight carloading, 11 per cent; and employment, three per cent.

The index of bank debts in principal Texas cities rose five per cent from March to 451 in relation to the 1935-49 average. The level of the bank debts index was 25 per cent above April 1947. It must be recognized that some of this rise in the index is due to higher prices. Dr. Stockton said, but even after making allowance for the higher prices level, the volume of business transaction is considerably larger than a year ago.

The volume of postal receipts in Texas cities also rose between March and April. The Bureau's index adjustment for seasonal variation was one per cent higher in April than in March. In comparison with April 1947, the index was up to 14 per cent.

Farm cash income rose sharply in April to bring the Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index to 331, the highest point reached in 1948. This value of the index was 26 per cent above the level of April 1947, although farm income for the first four months of 1948 was below the same period of 1947. The April rise in farm income was brought about by an increase in farm prices and an upward movement in the marketing of farm products.

According to Dr. Stockton's report, the building industry continued to represent one of the strongest elements of the current business situation, with the Bureau's index of building permits for April standing at 674 in comparison with the 1935-1938 value of 100. This represents a rise of 23 per cent over the high level of March and 88 per cent greater than April 1947.

Quarter Horse Unit To Give Saddle for Champion at Show

A handsome saddle will go to the grand champion quarter horse in the new performance class at the meeting of the American Quarter Horse Association in connection with the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 2, 3 and 5, Roy Arledge, chairman, said this week.

The saddle will be presented by the American Quarter Horse Association. Two performances classes are being added to the quarter horse show this year for the first time when those entered in those classes will perform under saddle. Only the finals, with four animals competing, will be shown in the arena when grand champion and reserve champion will be named. This will probably be held July 5, Mr. Arledge said. The same judges who judge the cutting horse contest will decide upon the winners in this new contest.

Two new halter classes have also been added to the American Quarter Horse Show this year, making 10 in all.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of wastes of toxic matter. The body is living 4/5 of itself, a constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail their function as Nature intended, there is a retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine which helps the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Zoo Keepers Devise New Type Scale for Weighing Gorilla

NEW YORK.—Time was when keepers at the New York Zoological park had no trouble weighing Makoko, a young male gorilla.

Keeper Jim Reilly would take Makoko on his shoulders and step on the scales. Then Reilly's weight was subtracted.

Reilly decided in 1945, with Makoko getting bigger, that his own health came first. Thereafter they guessed Makoko's weight.

Now, the keepers have devised a new method. They lure the gorilla from one cage to another in the process of which he has to step on a scale platform.

Makoko weighs 310 pounds.

MACDONALD CAREY made his one Broadway assignment so memorable that people still remember him in the lead opposite Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark." Paramount grabbed him, but not until after he had left to spend three years in the marine corps and returned to make "Suddenly It's Spring" did the studio realize that he is an excellent actor with charm and definite appeal. They starred him with Betty Hutton in "Dream Girl" and with Paulette Goddard in "Hazard." You'll see him also in "Abigail, Dear Heart" and "The Great Gatsby." After his New York vacation he heads for Hollywood and a super-western, with a chance to play a villain, at last.

Betty Hutton is credited with the best job ever done of singing in synchronization with an off-stage voice. Until now, Larry Parks held the record for his work in "The Jolson Story." Nadine Conner sang

Zoo Keepers Devise New Type Scale for Weighing Gorilla

NEW YORK.—Time was when keepers at the New York Zoological park had no trouble weighing Makoko, a young male gorilla.

Keeper Jim Reilly would take Makoko on his shoulders and step on the scales. Then Reilly's weight was subtracted.

Reilly decided in 1945, with Makoko getting bigger, that his own health came first. Thereafter they guessed Makoko's weight.

Now, the keepers have devised a new method. They lure the gorilla from one cage to another in the process of which he has to step on a scale platform.

Makoko weighs 310 pounds.

Billie Caffey and Lynn Box of Ventura, Calif. Wed April 16 There

Miss Billie Caffey and Lynn Box were married in the Ventura, California Baptist Church by the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Rev. Silas B. Cooper Friday, April 16.

Their wedding will be at home at 1666 San Nicholas Street, Ventura, following their honeymoon in Sequoia.

Miss Caffey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham, Hamlin, repeated her vows at 8:00 o'clock p.m. in a gown of white bridal satin, falling to a long train from a peplum hipline. The long sleeves reached points over the waist and the bodice was styled with sweetheart neckline. Her veil was held by a heart-shaped net headdress. She carried pink carnations and a white orchid.

C. F. Guinn gave the bride in marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Box of Ventura.

Mrs. Sue Langston was matron of honor and wore a blue dress and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of sweetpeas. Three bridesmaids carried similar lace-encircled bouquets; Miss Mildred Hall was in pink, Miss Bette Hewston in rose and Miss Edith Murray in pink.

Sandra L. Guinn was in blue and scattered rose petals and was a flower girl.

Marvin McClure was best man. Ushers were Earl Langston, Cliff Bansom and Stephen Craft.

Doris Bratcher, soloist, presented "One Alone," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Lillian Thompson was at the organ.

Reception followed in the church parlor with Betty Cooper asking guests to sign the bride's book. Helen Murray and Mrs. Barney Pitts assisted in serving.

The bride changed to a blue suit with white and black accessories and her bridal orchid worn as a corsage.

Mrs. Box studied in Texas schools and graduated in Ventura.

Her husband, employed by Universal Motors, is a graduate of schools in Lubbock and Abernathy.

CURRENT COMMENT

By LEON GUINN

For some very good reasons the world has so far only an inkling of why the Russians are remaining very quiet along the Berlin front. . . . We dare not give up at this time the American Zone in Germany's capital, because this is the very thing the Soviets want us to do. . . . The world is watching, however, for the Russians to break out before long with a possible paralysis of Western motor transport, stopping incoming trains again or perhaps filling the airline corridor out of Berlin with Russian planes. . . . The worst that could happen would be for the Russians to cut off the Western food supply for Berlin Germans, yet such a drastic step would incur political set-backs that might well outweigh a temporary gain for the sickle and hammer. . . . Uneasy indeed are the Americans in our zone of Berlin, for almost any morning serious trouble could explode in their front yards.

We have, in fact, come in conflict with Russia all over the world, and a study of the Communists reveals probably their strongest outposts are in Chile, Cuba and Brazil. . . . Against the march of the Reds we have the United Nations, an organization that has frankly welded together the Western Powers. . . . For some reason the UN has struggled along through three birthdays, and is far from being a dead duck; although much needs to be done before the organization is a practical, workable creation. . . . Member nations, for one thing, have not helped UN act to fulfill its charter and to date UN has not achieved the Big Five Unity on which the peace unit was established. . . . On the other hand, UN needs real governmental powers; observance of UN principles even when nations do not work through the organization, and above all, an agreement to abolish the veto in peaceful settlements. . . . If it were possible for a basic understanding to be reached between Russia and the West on obligations, one of the biggest barriers in the way would be entirely removed.

One notes, as a gentle reminder between the lines, that American aid to Greece is becoming effective in a more concrete way than was originally anticipated.

Military observers believe, for instance, that the Greek government and its troops now stand a good chance to liquidate rebel forces along the northern sector before winter falls. . . . American aid to other nations is beginning to have remarkable force, and many who would have otherwise perished are being kept alive through the generous hand of Uncle Sam. . . . Doubtless a small part of American aid will fall into the wrong hands, but insofar as this is concerned very few wheat crops were ever raised but what the chaff, sooner or later, was separated from the grain.

Key British interests are strongly resisting American plans to rehabilitate the textile industry in Japan. . . . Just how far we will go in revamping Jap textile mills remains to be seen, but the British are trying to keep cotton textile markets in India and the Far East, and Jap goods (because of cheap labor) could well replace British made materials. . . . The U. S. has, in a way, already made commitments to help the textile people in Japan, and for this reason Great Britain was anxious to invite American manufacturers to London to discuss Far Eastern markets. British mills, it is reported, cannot be modernized until the owners know the extent to which Japan will be permitted to compete.

A significant item in the daily news hinges around the fact contractors for the Atomic Energy Commission have increased their staffs from 37,000 to 50,000 employees. . . . This step seems to be only for the next 12 months. . . . As a probable tie-in the Council of National Defense is making a correct list of our 50,000 physical and natural scientists; who they are, where they are and just what they can do for defense. . . . It's rather an oddity to buy an American flag in Washington at the moment, for many merchants are not stocking up on flags until the fate of the Hawaiian Statehood bill is known. . . . If approved, this will add star No. 49 to Old Glory.

There's good indications that Congress is clearing the home plate for adjournment by the middle of June—unless something very drastic happens in the meantime. . . . The Republicans say quite emphatically that Congress can and should close shop before the conventions and remain closed down until after the presidential election.

Planned Confusion

It is apparent that the restoration of price control will be a major political issue this year, and that it will cut across party lines.

To the uninitiated, the idea is obviously appealing. It suggests the economic Utopia of a low cost of living coupled with the highest family incomes we have ever earned.

It is difficult to puncture so pretty a balloon as this. Yet it is necessary to report that no economist of reputation thinks that price control would work, or that it would create anything except chaos. It has been an utter failure in Europe—even when the toughest police state methods have been used in an attempt to make it a success. Manufacturers and farmers refuse to produce foods and commodities on which an arbitrary low price deprives them of profit. Scarce items—including many basic necessities—can be purchased only in the black market at fantastic prices. The big money is earned by racketeers and gangsters. The shelves of legitimate stores are bare, and the living standards of workers decline.

High prices in this country are the result of irresistible economic and governmental forces. They are not the fault of retailers, manufacturers or any of the special groups which are singled out for criticism. That will still be true whether they go up or down in the future. Price control here would mean our acceptance of a totalitarian device which has never succeeded, and has been a depressive influence.

A new draft law seems almost a certainty as a compromise on President Truman's demand both for the draft and universal military training. Universal training will be abandoned in favor of drafting of youth, which is more than many persons expected because this is an election year.

The reason, of course, that both political parties realize the "cold war" may reach the spontaneous combustion point at any time.

Only once before has American participation in a war seemed so likely that a peace-time Congress decided to expand the armed services by a draft. That was in 1940—over a year before Pearl Harbor.

During World War I draft legislation was enacted six weeks after Congress had declared the existence of a state of war with Germany. In the Civil War Congress did not authorize the drafting of men for the Union Army until March, 1863, almost two years after the firing on Fort Sumter. In the Civil War the age limits for conscription were 20 to 45. The end of World War I saw the limits at 18 through 45. World War II ages at the end of the conflict were 18 through 44. In World War II men from 45 to 64 were required to register but were not subject to induction.

In the Civil War only 50,000 out of 250,000 registered were actually drafted. In World War I 24,200,000 were registered and 2,800,000 drafted. In World War II 50,500,000 were registered and 10,200,000 inducted. The draft in World War II furnished 63 per cent of the total 16,000,000 persons entering the armed services.—San Angelo Standard.

National politics, Democratic brand, become more confusing daily. Hardly a day passes that some element of the party does not throw rocks at President Truman.

Presently the attacks come from the Americans for Democratic Action sector. This is the organization headed now by Leon Henderson and numbering several Franklin D. Roosevelt heirs, including Mrs. Roosevelt, in its membership. It is a small body, but extremely noisy, and dedicated more and more to the creation of a political Roosevelt memorial association.

Two of the Roosevelt boys, Franklin Jr. and Elliott, have just written off President Truman and Henry Wallace in favor of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The two sons of the late president say the incumbent of the white house won't do, and that Wallace is not carrying out father's ideals and traditions, either. They think the former supreme commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Europe would.

The two young men are, of course, entitled to their political opinions. They are, however, not necessarily qualified to say what their father might or might not have done had he remained alive.

They are naive in their willingness to accept General Eisenhower as the Moses to lead them out of what they regard as a political morass.

First of all, there is no indication that General Eisenhower will give any consideration, much less sympathetic consideration, to the suggestion that he accept the Democratic nomination.—Crockett Courier

You cannot teach a child to take care of himself unless you will let him try to take care of himself. He will make mistakes; and out of these mistakes will come his wisdom.—H. W. Beecher.

There is nothing in the loss of an arm to keep you from being a loving wife, a happy mother, a successful woman.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

HAS a girl who has lately suffered a painful and permanent disability the right to marry the man to whom she was engaged before the accident that has handicapped her?

That is the question a New York state girl, Edith Wilson, asks me and she tells me the story. She was graduated from college four years ago, worked as a private secretary to a commercial artist, found herself talented as an artist, too, and at the same time fell in love with her employer. All this went like a roseate dream, and their wedding was all set.

Then Edith was in a motor smash-up; Phil was driving, but it was not Phil's fault that a van, out of control, shot across the right-hand lane and crashed Phil's car into a wall. Edith woke up in a hospital and for some weeks they fought to save the crushed elbow, but in the end it had to go and the right hand with it. At first she took the blow, I gather, as a woman of strong character would, but it meant the cruel end of all her hopes.

She says now that she will not and can't marry Phil; give him a crippled wife, a woman who is fated to be forever conspicuous because of that missing arm.

Phil Still Loves Her

When Phil tells her that it makes no difference in his love, she merely sighs. She knows in her heart that it does. Theirs would have been a successful business together, but a small one. Their home would be Phil's country studio. They had planned to cook meals, do housework together.

Edith feels that that dream is over. In her despair she doesn't want to see Phil or to talk about the past at all. She wants to get away, to earn her obscure living somewhere, far away from all the world she knew before—just to get away!

But how can she make a fresh start with only a left hand to help her? The future looks all dark and she wants disinterested advice. What would be the wise and right thing to do?

The wise thing, I think, Edith, would be to put off that marriage for some time, perhaps a year. At 23 that is not too long to wait. Then during that time, go about your life as naturally as you can. Go back to the office, file letters, answer the telephone, lunch with Phil, try to make yourself in every way just what you were a few months ago. Ask him not to discuss future plans, just to let you go ahead normally and get yourself adjusted.

It may help you to remember that some thousands of your fellow Americans, almost all young men of about your age, are facing the same hard problem. Some are blind, some armless, legless, some disfigured, some never to recover from even more serious nervous and mental disabilities.

Quietly and bravely, because everyone forgets their sacrifices and their predicament, these men must make their way into a new world, must postpone their hopes of marriage, of homes of their own, until they overcome the new, unexpected difficulty that the war brought into their lives.

You'll find that you can do an amazing lot with only one hand. I know this because my own right arm was out of commission for eight weeks a few years ago, and

...she's so sweet and busy...

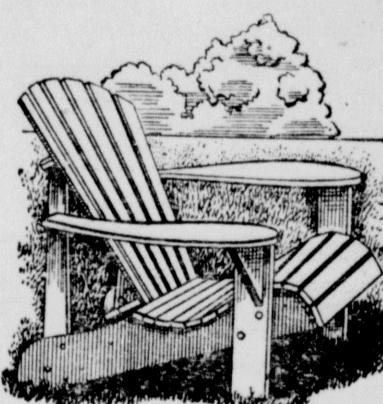

Lipstick for Blind Women

LOS ANGELES.—Two veteran vaudeville troupers have invented a device to aid blind women put their lipstick on straight.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sylvester were walking down the street when they noticed a well-dressed, blind woman with smeared lipstick. Build This Set of Lawn Furniture Yourself.

If in need of lawn furniture, build it yourself and save money. Full size patterns are available that simplify building the matching chairs and settee illustrated above. A smaller size chair, suitable for children two to eight years of age, can also be constructed from a pattern. Youngsters will be happy to join the family circle if they have a chair they can call their own. Nothing seems to be quite so important to the young ones as having things "just like Dad's".

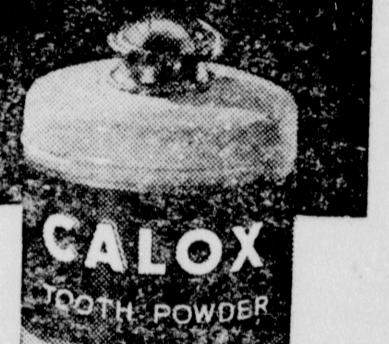

The Full Size Woodworking Pattern provides a complete list of materials needed, step by step directions and full size patterns for cutting each part. It's the dress pattern idea applied to the flat surface of lumber. No special tools or skill are required. All the materials specified by each pattern are stock size and readily available at lumber yards everywhere. So, for fun over a weekend, build one or more of these pieces. Get the youngster to help. Have him sandpaper each piece, let him hold the pieces as you drill holes. Explain why you use glue and screws at every joint to hold parts together and to keep moisture out. If he's lent a hand building this chair you'll find him taking considerably better care of it.

Materials for two chairs can be purchased for less than one chair costs ready made. Make adult size chairs from Pattern No. 32 and a matching settee from Pattern No. 39. Child size chair is Pattern No. 32. Send 25c for each pattern. Pattern No. 32, Send 35c for Pattern No. 39 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Department W., Pleasantville, N. Y.

POT-SHOTS FROM McCauley

By GEORGE DARREN

Listen folks, Harley Sadler and his show is coming to town. Yep, they will show in McCauley at the Ed Mason Gym on the night of June 18. That's Friday night week folks at 8:00 p.m. The name of the play is "Saintly Hypocrites and Honest Sinners". The show is sponsored by the McCauley Cemetery Fund will get all the admission fee less advertising which will be paid out of the Fund. Let's pack the Gym with people for a worthy cause and show Sadler and the Sweetwater show people that this community is grateful to them for their support. The play is a three act comedy which has a lot of morals. Local talent will perform between acts. Don't forget to tell your neighbor about the date again is June 18.

Mr and Mrs Levi McCollum and daughter will leave for Austin on Wednesday of this week on business as well as a little vacation. Visitors in the Frank Jackson home last week-end were their daughter and family from Big Spring. Comment No. 1—Politics is o.k. some good and some bad. But is deplorable when our lodges and church use politics to promote or elect. All these years we have jumped on "steam roller tactics" in institutions which should be held dear to the American citizen. Why should we holler about the Pope of Rome making a political speech when even worse tactics are often used in local set up. When we learn to keep politics out of our schools, churches and lodges then perhaps we can elect more efficient government officials—Yours, George.

THIS IS AN ANAGRAM. The four scrambled words tell a well-known truth these days of scrambled budgets.

You may have to do a little figuring to discover that it says: "ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN"—but it doesn't take much figuring to realize what a great bargain your electric service really is!

Your pocketbook tells you that living costs have sky-rocketed—that nearly everything costs more nowadays. But not your electric service! The average family served by the West Texas Utilities Company still gets twice as much electric service for its money as it did 20 years ago!

Check your budget and ask yourself what other item does so much to make life easy and comfortable—at such little cost!

Teacher Group to Push Legislative For Schools Aid

A tentative five-point legislative program aimed at improving public schools will be sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association in the next Legislature.

The program was set out in a letter mailed Wednesday by the association to the 41,000 members of the organization, more than 50 of which were received in Scurry County by members. It was signed by Miss Emma Mae Brotze, president; B. B. Cobb, secretary; and Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director.

The letter called attention to the needs of the public school system as seen by the teachers association, as follows:

An extension of the equalization rural aid law to allow a greater number of poorly financed schools to qualify, thus enabling them to pay the minimum salary of $2,000 for teachers with BA degrees, as provided by the last Legislature, and maintain modern school systems.

Increasing the total appropriation for schools receiving equalization aid.

Increasing pay for all teachers on a basis yet to be determined.

Passage of a law providing better teacher certification standards, and teacher tenure.

A mandatory minimum cumulative sick leave law.

Important Don'ts Told Of Children Wages, Hours Given by Man

Some of the important "don'ts" for employers of Hamlin area and the rest of the State on the employment of minors during the summer vacation period were listed today by William J. Rogers, regional director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, in the five Southwestern states. He advised employers subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal wage and hour law):

Don't permit children 14-15 years old to work more than 40 hours a week when school is not in session, or more than three hours a day and 18 hours a week when school is in session.

Don't permit 14 and 15 years old to work between seven p.m. and seven a.m.

Don't permit children 14 and 15 year old to work in manufacturing, mining or processing occupations, including occupations requiring the performance of any duties in workrooms or work places where goods are manufactured, mined or otherwise processed.

Don't permit children 16-17 years old to work in occupation held to be hazardous—in plants manufacturing explosives; as in motor vehicle drivers or helpers; in coal mines; in logging or sawmill occupations; around power-driven wood working machinery; operating power-driven hoisting apparatus, including elevators, and in jobs where they are exposed to radioactive substance.

Don't forget to get employment and age certificate and keep them on file.

Don't forget to pay minor employees at least the minimum wage set by law, and time and a half for overtime after 40 hours in any workweek.

If the firm is working on a contract under the Walsh-Healey Act, he further advised.

Don't hire boys under 16 years or girls under 18 years to work on such contracts, or pay them less than the minimum wage and overtime.

Cancer Drive By V.F.W. Stands at Two-Thirds Quota

Farm Cash Income Goes Upward to Better $130,000,000

According to a report from Clyde Huff, commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 6014 Hamlin is about $100 short of its quota of $300 for the American Cancer Drive which is nationwide in extent.

Local post has only worked last Friday evening on the drive and Huff states we should go over the top for such a worthy cause for someone dies by the dreaded disease every three minutes.

Total to date stands at $191. just $10 short of our goal—. Have you helped? Do so when they come around—you may be next.

The amount was short mainly because several businesses were not gotten to in time to make their donations and several others were out of town.

In a national report to The Herald about 55 counties have gone over their goal but as a whole about 25 per cent short of the money needed to insure an adequate and increased program of education, research and service in the coming year.

W P Hoby, state chairman stated further, "Sixty per cent of all money collected is used in Texas for facilities which will soon cover all of the state's counties and that 25 per cent is used in research projects which he is convinced will someday determine the cause and cure for all cancer.

Compared to April 1947, farm cash income gained 26 per cent as all districts except the Lower Rio Grande Valley turned in increases from six per cent in Southern High Plains

Farmer income from January thru April 1948 reached $200,715,000 or one per cent above a like period in 1947. During this period income to 90 per cent in South Texas Plains, varied from a 55-per cent rise in index was 331 per cent of the prewar Southern High Plains to a 33 per cent decline in the Northern High Plains.

Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index period in April, 207 in March and 272 in April 1947.

322 Carloads of Eggs Shipped Out In April

One Hamlin World War II dead is being returned to the United States from Manila aboard the US Army Transport Lieutenant George W C B-ye, the Department of Army announced early this week to The Herald.

He is T5 Wilburn Faulkenberry, Army whose parents are Claude Faulkenberry of out-of Hamlin.

Armed forces dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands are among those being returned on the transport.

Arrival of the vessel will be announced by The Herald as soon as information is received.

Most Farm Products Bring Steady to Strong Prices at Markets Last Week

Most farm products brought steady to strong prices at Southwest markets last week, except for wheat and milo losses it was reported by the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration to The Herald.

Cotton hovered around 37.75 cents per pound for middling 15-16 inch offerings, with Monday's price about 50 cents per bale less than June 1, but around $5 per bale higher than a year ago at this time at Dallas.

Heavy receipts of new wheat dropped prices to $2.39 per bushel at Teas common points Monday, the lowest since last August. Milo declined 12 cents to $3.68 to $3.73 per hundred pounds as the new crop started moving from South Texas.

Oats were stronger around $1.29 to $1.32 at Fort Worth. Barley gained about four cents as corn declined as much.

Last week's trading in Southwest egg and poultry markets showed some improvement. Monday's prices held this firm tone with lighter supplies of farm run eggs quoted mostly at 36 to 38 cents per dozen. New Orleans paid around 43 cents for all white current receipts. Fryers ranged from 38 to 41 cents on the farm. Turkeys found good demand at 38 cents for toms and 40 for hens.

Hogs prices were fully steady at most Southwest markets Monday, reflecting a decline in last week supplies and continued good demand for pork. Best butchers brought $23.75 at San Antonio; $24 to $24.50 at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City; $24.25 to $24.50 at Wichita and $24.50 to $25.50 at Denver. Sows ranged mostly from $17 to $19.

This week's sheep and lamb trading opened on the same firm basis as set last week at Southwest markets.

Spring lambs made the sharpest gains. Prices ranged from $26.50 to $29.50 for top grades. Medium to good shorn ewes brought anywhere from $10.50 to $11.25 at San Antonio to $11.50 to $11.75 at Denver.

Except for occasional weak spots on lower grade cattle and stockers Southwest markets reported steady to strong prices for slaughter classes so far this June. Light receipts last week were just about half as large as for the same period last year but Monday's run was heavy.

Good demand took common and medium cows around $17 to $21.50 at Texas markets, while medium and good cows ranged from $22 to $24.50 in Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas.

Heifers reached an all-time high at $33.25 at Denver.

Israel Registers Diplomatic Victory By Agreeing to 'Cease Fire' Order; Lewis Quits First Coal Conference

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PALESTINE: Diplomacy

What the Jews of Israel lacked in armed strength to resist Arab attacks against their new state they had made up in shrewd diplomacy.

It was just possible that the decisive blow of the Palestine war was struck when Israel, foreseeing military defeat, agreed to order its army to cease fire on all Palestine fronts if the Arabs would do the same.

That development, which took place as the battle for Jerusalem entered its sixth day in an unholy atmosphere of rattling guns, bursting shell and violent death, made the most favorable impression possible in the United Nations.

Thus having the onus of prolonging the Palestine fighting shifted suddenly to their shoulders alone, the Arabs were put on the spot in the U. N. and in world public opinion.

It was a clever diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Jews but, at least at the outset of this new line of circumstances, the Arabs were having none of it. They reiterated their determination to wrest all Palestine from control of the Jews.

Actually, all the Jews had done was to issue a surprise cease fire order in compliance with a U. N. security council request that the fighting be brought to a halt. Neither the security council nor anyone else had expected the request to be observed.

But that put it up to the Arabs who, faced with a deadline set by the U. N., were having trouble deciding whether or not to cease fire.

If they stopped fighting now they would have done so without attaining their prime objective—the revoking of Israel's claim to sovereign statehood. If they continued the war beyond the deadline they would be laying themselves open to possible security council sanctions of the economic variety.

SECURITY: Desperate Plight

President Truman came up with another sound plank to reinforce his campaign platform when he demanded that congress overhaul and broaden the social security program.

To relieve the "desperate" plight of the aged and needy in this inflationary period he called for a 50 per cent increase in old age insurance benefits and asked that 20 million more persons be protected.

He offered a five point program and said he wanted quick action on it. For three years, the President pointed out with some irritation, similar requests on his part have been shunted aside. This time he was asking:

1. A 50 per cent increase "at least" in old age and survivors' insurance benefits; allowing pensioners to earn up to $40 a month instead of $15 without losing benefits; raising of the tax rate from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent next January 1.

2. Extension of coverage to farm and domestic workers, the self-employed and others not now covered.

3. Broadening of unemployment insurance to cover employees of small firms (having fewer than eight workers), federal employees and others.

4. Disability insurance to protect workers from loss of earnings caused by sickness and injuries.

5. Increased federal benefits to match state aid for dependent children, the needy, aged and blind.

Whatever his motives in presenting the problem of inadequate social security benefits again at this time, Mr. Truman did have a good, even a noble, point.

"People whose sole income is from social security payments have just about reached the breaking point. All of them face a desperate struggle in trying to procure bare necessities at present prices."

Both President Truman and the aged and needy were hoping fervently that congress would be able to squeeze social security legislation into the crowded docket it had prepared for the month preceding adjournment.

As for congress itself, it was on the fence again.

ECONOMICS:Wage-Price

While prices continue to climb steadily, wage increases are beginning to show signs of levelling off, says the latest department of commerce report on inflation.

Possibility of a business recession, and with it the prospect for lower prices, vanished like mist in the sun after the foreign aid and military preparedness programs began to take shape in March, the department survey revealed.

Walkout

This photograph of the west end of John L. Lewis going east out of a door is perhaps symbolic of trouble to come in the nation's soft coal mines. First conference between the United Mine Workers and the coal producers on the miners' 1948 contract ended in frustration when Lewis walked out after refusing to seat a representative of the Southern Coal Producers association at the parley.

NO CONFERENCE:Lewis Again

It was all typically Lewisian. "I make the observation that there is now no conference," quoth John L., chief of the soft coal miners, as he walked grandly out on the first meeting to negotiate a new contract between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

UMW's present contract expires June 30.

Lewis broke up the discussion on 1948 wage agreements when he objected to seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, at the conference and was outvoted by the operators.

He was not against Moody personally. Officially, his union's position was that the 14 regional organizations which comprise the Southern association must bargain in 14 separate groups, rather than delegate bargaining authority to the all-inclusive association.

According to Lewis' accepted pattern of operation, his balk at the Southern Coal Producers was the opening tactical stroke in his 1948 campaign for an improved miners' contract.

Following that, he could sit back and present the UMW wage demands in his own good time. Then, if the coal operators did not accede, he could call the annual strike.

Lewis knew his position was good. The UMW's recent pension walkout had left the nation's coal reserves seriously depleted. By the time June 30 rolled around soft coal stocks would not yet have been built up to the point where industry could stand a long strike.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, it looked like this would develop into another injunction case.

The union still is under an 80 day court injunction prohibiting renewal of the pension strike; but the court might rule that another walkout would be a brand new strike. In that case a new injunction might have to be sought by the government under Taft-Hartley procedure.

HARVEST:European

Europe may look forward to possibly its best year since the war if food production prospects continue to be as favorable as they are right now.

U. S. agriculture department said that the continent will produce a larger part of its food needs this year than it did last year and that the crop outlook was good over most of Europe and the Soviet Union early in May.

Prospects indicate a considerably larger crop of bread grains—wheat and rye—than last year's desperately small one. A severe winter killed most of Europe's winter wheat and rye last year.

European production of bread grains may surpass 1.8 billion bushels, which was the size of the 1946 crop, largest since the war. Production last year dropped to about 1.5 billion bushels, compared with a 2.3 billion average before the war.

As for congress itself, it was on the fence again.

Long Voyage

Previous flight range records paled into insignificance when an air force B-36 superbomber flew an unprecedented 8,000 miles nonstop with a dummy bomb load of about five tons. It was aloft for a day and a half.

The B-36 returned to the ground with about 1,200 gallons of gasoline remaining in its tanks, enough to keep it aloft another two or three hours if necessary.

DAIRYING:To a Crisis

While the U. S. dairy industry was busy promoting its 12th annual June Dairy Month for the purpose of selling more milk, butter, cheese and ice cream it also was taking a long, critical look behind the scenes and not liking what it saw.

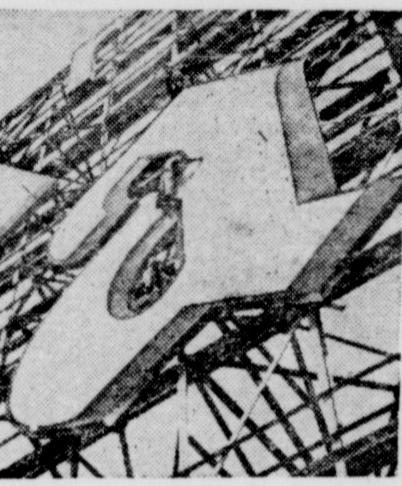

Industry analysts had spotted what appeared to be a dangerous trend. In its simplest form the trend could be defined as an inexorable increase in the U. S. population.

At the root of the problem was a stubbornly entrenched economic condition whose factors were the war, widespread hunger abroad and domestic inflation.

Continuing high prices for beef and veal have been instrumental in sending many dairy cows or potential dairy cows to the slaughterhouse. Too many American dairy farmers have discovered how they could reduce their herds—drastically, put more land into money-making grain crops, realize a greater profit and still have more leisure time.

Adding those conditions to the fact that during the past few years the nation has experienced about a 45 per cent increase in its birth rate, the dairy industry came up with a grim conclusion: If these circumstances continue at the present rate, and there is every likelihood that they will, by 1952 the U. S. will be approaching the critical point at which it no longer will be able to produce enough milk to satisfy its own needs.

That, according to some prognosticators, might mean strict rationing in a land which hitherto had literally flowed with milk and honey.

Biggest Switch

Billboard advertising will reach a new spectacular extreme on Chicago's Lake Shore drive this July when the switch is thrown to turn on the lights of the world's largest sign—114 feet high and 200 feet wide. A mile and a half of neon tubing, illuminating letters 35 to 58 feet high, will flash the name of a spirited product which a certain distillery wants everybody to switch to.

So it is clear that one of the basic objectives of the social security program, to do away with as much need for relief as possible by building up an insurance system which would pay adequate benefits, is meeting with only mediocre success.

Reason for this is the refusal of congress (1) to increase the tax provision from 1 per cent, and (2) to extend the provisions bringing more persons under the program. At present about 34 million persons are covered by old age and survivors insurance which includes most workers in commerce and industry.

But there are 22 million left out including 5 million farm operators, 1.6 million farm laborers, 1.7 million domestic servants, 6 million self employed, 2 million federal employees and 3 million state and local government employees.

My mother should have most of the blame for my bad handwriting, just as she is to blame for the fact that I can write at all. She was herself a writer and, unique as it was in those good old days, she possessed a typewriter, a sturdy little affair, affectionately known as "the Blick."

At any rate, if diary-keeping is used against me; I have two outs—hardly anything, even of mild interest, is or will be recorded on the faded pages of my journals, and secondly, because I write such a vile hand that I can decipher only a few lines here and there myself.

My mother should have most of the blame for my bad handwriting, just as she is to blame for the fact that I can write at all. She was herself a writer and, unique as it was in those good old days, she possessed a typewriter, a sturdy little affair, affectionately known as "the Blick."

At any rate, what was called "Spencerian" still was taught in the schools of New York state, but very few mastered it even without the curlicues and shading of earlier days. And just as I was getting so I could make the wobbly "M's" and the terrible "Q's", along came a new Pharaoh to my scholastic Egypt and introduced the "vertical system." That was probably where my undulation really began. I unlearned the Spencerian all right, but I was never able to go vertical.

It also follows generally the President's proposals. Difference is, the President gave the Democratic prewar farm program credit for postwar farm prosperity and he tied it in the administration's reciprocal trade agreements act as essential for promoting farm exports and took a crack at the GOP criticism of farm cooperatives.

However, he still will go to the national convention with at least 200 delegates pledged to support him on the first ballot. So, for that matter, will Dewey. A total of 548 convention votes is required for nomination.

Farm Income for March Slumps in Most of Texas

Texas farm cash income edged fractionally downward from February to March to $48,402,000, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported this week in a release to The Herald.

Compared to March, 1947, farm income was down 37 per cent.

Edwards Plateau registered a 51 per cent rise over February farm cash income; Southern Texas Prairies, 16 per cent; Southern High plains, 15 per cent; and Trans-Pecos District, 13 per cent. On the other hand, February-to-march declines, 40 per cent; East Texas prairies, 40 per cent; East Texas Timbered Plains, 16 per cent; and South Texas Plains, 13 per cent.

Increased livestock marketings pushed farm income in the Trans-Pecos District and Edwards Plateau 52 per cent above March, 1947. Declines ranged from three per cent in the East Texas Timbered Plains to 72 per cent in the Northern High Plains.

Mr and Mrs W R Terry are in Dallas and Fort Worth on business for a few days.

Sleep is a mystery.

Someone said that man spends one-third of his lifetime asleep and yet fears to die.

But the mystery of sleep is its perverseness. Shakespeare has a care - worn king claim that slumber comes to the lad at the giddy mast when to nod even a moment may mean death but avoids the couches of monarchs.

Shakespeare by no means exhausted the possibilities. For example why is it that I can sit in an un-cushioned chair in the reading room of a public library and drop into a doze; or can, after the cold boiled ham and insipid apple pie of a Rotary Club luncheon, find my head grow heavy and suddenly "come to" with the realization that I have been snoozing while the speaker of the day was saving the world—and yet, let me lie down at night on a bed in a hotel room which I am paying $4 and I have had a hearty dinner, if the man in the next room is talking over the phone and his voice comes dimly through a wall, it keeps me awake?

I can sit bolt upright in a Pullman car seat—which is as unyielding as a law of the Medes and Persians—and, in broad daylight,

I can slumber. But when the porter has made down the berth and I am arrayed in pajamas and all is dark, lo! sleep is far away.

But if I'm driving at night, I may become so drowsy that I have to thrust my head out the window in the cool air, stop at a roadside cafe and drink a cup of coffee but still have to fight against falling to sleep at the wheel and so give up and stop at a hotdog—and then become wide awake until almost dawn.

Why can't I go to sleep? But don't try to tell me; probably I'd be asleep before the explanation was half finished.

Business in Texas Resumes Upward After Early Slack

After hesitating for the first three months of the year, Hamlin area and Texas businesses in April resumed its upward trend, as reported to The Herald by Dr. John R. Stockton, statistician for the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The composite index of business activity compiled by the Bureau rose 22 per cent from March to bring it to 216, the highest point reached since the end of the war.

One of the significant characteristics of the rise in the April index is the fact that all but one of the components increased. Sales of department and appeal stores declined 2 per cent, after adjustment for seasonal variation. Miscellaneous freight carloading in the southwestern district rose 2 per cent, bringing the index to 162, a fraction below the postwar peak reached in December 1947.

Crude runs to stills increased 4 per cent from March, to establish postwar high of 182. Electric power consumption gained 4 per cent to bring the index to 312, although this point was below the February high of 326.

The index of employment rose to 124, an increase of 1 per cent over March, but still below December 1947, when the index stood at 125. Also below December was the index of pay rolls; but at 245 for April it was three per cent above March.

During the past twelve months the composite index has risen 14 per cent, with a gain registered in all of the components. The largest gain was in crude runs to stills which in April was 37 per cent, sales were up 23 per cent, and electric power consumption, 16 per cent. Three of the components increased less than the average for the composite: pay rolls, 12 per cent; miscellaneous freight carloading, 11 per cent; and employment, three per cent.

The index of bank debts in principal Texas cities rose five per cent from March to 451 in relation to the 1935-39 average. The level of the bank debts index was 25 per cent above April 1947.

It must be recognized that some of this rise in the index is due to higher prices, Dr. Stockton said, but even after making allowance for the higher prices level, the volume of business transaction is considerably larger than a year ago.

The volume of postal receipts in Texas cities also rose between March and April. The Bureau's index adjustment for seasonal variation was one per cent higher in April than in March. In comparison with April 1947, the index was up to 14 per cent.

Farm cash income rose sharply in April to bring the Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index to 331, the highest point reached in 1948. This value of the index was 26 per cent above the level of April 1947, although farm income for the first four months of 1948 was below the same period of 1947. The April rise in farm income was brought about by an increase in farm prices and an upward movement in the marketings of farm products.

According to Dr. Stockton's report, the building industry continued to represent one of the strongest elements of the current business situation, with the Bureau's index of building permits for April standing at 674 in comparison with the 1935-1939 value of 100. This represents a rise of 23 per cent over the high level of March and 88 per cent greater than April 1947.

Quarter Horse Unit To Give Saddle for Champion at Show

A handsome saddle will go to the grand champion quarter horse in the new performance class at the meeting of the American Quarter Horse Association in connection with the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 2, 3 and 5, Roy Arelage, chairman, said this week.

The saddle will be presented by the American Quarter Horse Association. Two performances classes are being added to the quarter horse show this year for the first time when those entered in those classes will perform under saddle. Only the finals, with four animals competing, will be shown in the arena when grand champion and reserve champion will be named. This will probably be held July 5, Mr. Arelage said. The same judges who judge the cutting horse contest will decide upon the winners in this new contest.

Two new halter classes have also been added to the American Quarter Horse Show this year, making 10 in all.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the body free from the accumulation of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to do their job, Nature intends that there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feels tired, nervous, worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney trouble.

This is recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste.

Zoo Keepers Devise New Type Scale for Weighing Gorilla

NEW YORK. — Time was when keepers at the New York Zoological park had no trouble weighing Makoko, a young male gorilla. Keeper Jim Reilly would take Makoko on his shoulders and step on the scales. Then Reilly's weight was subtracted.

Reilly decided in 1945, with Makoko getting bigger, that his own health came first. Thereafter they guessed Makoko's weight.

Now, the keepers have devised a new method. They lure the gorilla from one cage to another in the process of which he has to step on a scale platform.

Makoko weighs 310 pounds.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

MACDONALD CAREY made his one Broadway assignment so memorable that people still remember him in the lead opposite Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark." Paramount grabbed him, but not until after he had left to spend three years in the marine corps and returned to make "Suddenly It's Spring" did the studio realize that he is an excellent actor with charm and definite appeal. They starred him with Betty Hutton in "Dream Girl" and with Paulette Goddard in "Hazard." You'll see him also in "Abigail, Dear Heart" and "The Great Gatsby." After his New York vacation he heads for Hollywood and a super-western, with a chance to play a villain, at last.

Betty Hutton is credited with the best job ever done of singing in synchronization with an off-stage voice. Until now, Larry Parks held the record for his work in "The Jolson Story." Nadine Conner sang

BETTY HUTTON

"One Fine Day" for "Madame Butterfly" scenes in "Dream Girl," and Betty did a fine job of pretending to do the singing before the cameras.

We hear that the reason Joan Crawford backed out of doing "Mildred Pierce" on a "Screen Guild Players" broadcast was that she was scared of working before a live audience; had expected to do it in a closed studio.

Apparently other actresses just have no chance to compete with Loretta Young. Once again, for the fourth straight year, she has been acclaimed by the National Institute of Voice Teachers for her speaking voice.

Something new has happened to the Bing Crosby programs. The show now is broadcast directly from the tape on which it is first made, instead of being transferred to large transcription discs. American Broadcasting company says this makes the broadcasts absolutely indistinguishable in quality from "live" ones which are aired directly from the studio.

Probably the most unusual fan letter of the season is the one Art Linkletter received from aviator Paul Mantz. He wrote that during his last two transcontinental speed record flights he came in on the beam of Link's "House Party."

Following the late, beloved Tom Bremner on "Breakfast in Hollywood" was a tough assignment, but Garry Moore had letters from several thousand fans at the end of his first week, telling him how well he was doing. His success on "Club Matinee," then with Durante and recently as master of ceremonies of "Take it or Leave it" made him a natural for the job.

Robert Ryan moved into his new home after completing a co-starring assignment in "Berlin Express," but he and his wife slept on the floor the first two nights. Movers had delivered all the furniture to a house several doors away.

Odds and Ends . . . Elspeth Eric ("Big Sister") is a walking directory of information about the Chicago Cubs. That has been her team since childhood . . . Reese Taylor of "Road of Life" has the apartment-hunting story of the season—he was offered a lease on an apartment if he would take care of the landlady's cat . . . THE FICTION CORNER

MESSAGE FOR THELMA

By ROBERT ARTHUR

TOM's note said that he would come at 11 for his things. By 10:30 Anne had packed all of his personal belongings into the three pigskin bags and the wardrobe trunk, which she dragged empty into the foyer of the apartment and filled there. Tom was never punctual. He might come half an hour early or half an hour late, and she wanted to have everything ready in time so that she could be out when he came.

She did not linger over the packing or allow herself to feel anything, even when she put the set of cuff links and studs which had been her wedding gift to him and the silver-mounted military brushes she had given him on their first—and only—anniversary into the last bag.

Why? The question persisted in asking itself. What went wrong? Why didn't it work out?

She'd known it wouldn't be easy.

sports writer, Tom often had to before the elevator could reach her floor.

It didn't stop, after all. But the fear of being caught there by Tom's arrival stayed with her until she was outside and hurrying across to Washington Square. Only when she reached the small park did she slow her pace.

She found a bench in the cool sunshine and sat down. Then, watching the placid pigeons, the screeching children on skates, the mothers pushing carriages and the old men playing checkers, she tried to keep her thoughts turned from what was happening. But it wasn't possible.

Sarah Ann Steele and Joe Ford Wed Saturday In Candlelight Ceremony by McCaulley Pastor

Hamlin First Baptist Church was the setting for the candlelight ceremony Saturday of Sarah Ann Steele daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Steele and Wilburn Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford.

Rev. C. E. Dick, pastor of the Mc-
Caulley Baptist Church, who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents, read the ceremony before the white alter decorated with the greenery and pink floral arrangements.

Pink and white bridal theme was further enhanced by the tall baskets of white peonies, stephanotis and pink plumbosa. Tall tapers in branched candelabra flanked each side of the alter and also the chancel rail.

A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. W. C. Russell who also played the traditional wedding marches an accompaniment.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the suburban home of the bride's parents for the wedding party and the members of the family.

Reception table was laid with a lace cloth. Bride's bouquet on a mirror reflector formed the centrepiece.
The three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. S. G. Caruth of Port Arthur, aunt of the bride. Another aunt, Mrs. W. A. Steele, was present.

sweetheart neckline fitted shirted bodice and circular skirt extending into a full length train. Two rows of pleated ruffles of the material completed the skirt. Long sleeves extended into points over the waist and were fastened by tiny covered buttons.

Her veil of twill designed by her brother of Washington, D. C. fell sister and made by Woodward &

streamers intertwined with lilies of the valley.

CURRENT COMMENT

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Herald. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

By LEON GUINN

For some very good reasons the world has so far only an inkling of why the Russians are remaining very quiet along the Berlin front. . . . We dare not give up at this time the American Zone in Germany's capital, because this is the very thing the Soviets want us to do. . . . The world is watching, however, for the Russians to break out before long with a possible paralysis of Western motor transport, stopping incoming trains again or perhaps filling the airline corridor out of Berlin with Russian planes. . . . The worst that could happen would be for the Russians to cut off the Western food supply for Berlin Germans, yet such a drastic step would incur political set-backs that might well outweigh a temporary gain for the sickle and hammer. . . . Uneasy indeed are the Americans in our zone of Berlin, for almost any morning serious trouble could explode in their front yards.

We have, in fact, come in conflict with Russia all over the world, and a study of the Communists reveals probably their strongest outposts are in Chile, Cuba and Brazil. . . . Against the march of the Reds we have the United Nations, an organization that has frankly welded together the Western Powers. . . . For some reason the UN has struggled along through three birthdays, and is far from being a dead duck; although much needs to be done before the organization is practical, workable creation. . . . Member nations, for one thing, have not helped UN act to fulfill its charter and to date UN has not achieved the Big Five Unity on which the peace unit was established. . . . On the other hand, UN needs real governmental powers; observance of UN principles even when nations do not work through the organization, and above all, an agreement to abolish the veto in peaceful settlements. . . . If it were possible for a basic understanding to be reached between Russia and the West on obligations, one of the biggest barriers in the way would be entirely removed.

One notes, as a gentle reminder between the lines, that American aid to Greece is becoming effective in a more concrete way than was originally anticipated. Military observers believe, for instance, that the Greek government and its troops now stand a good chance to liquidate rebel forces along the northern sector before winter falls. . . . American aid to other nations is beginning to have remarkable force, and many who would have otherwise perished are being kept alive through the generous hand of Uncle Sam. . . . Doubtless a small part of American aid will fall into the wrong hands, but insofar as this is concerned very few wheat crops were ever raised but what the chaff, sooner or later, was separated from the grain.

Key British interests are strongly resisting American plans to rehabilitate the textile industry in Japan. . . . Just how far we will go in revamping Jap textile mills remains to be seen, but the British are trying to keep cotton textile markets in India and the Far East, and Jap goods (because of cheap labor) could well replace British made materials. . . . The U. S. has, in a way, already made commitments to help the textile people in Japan, and for this reason Great Britain was anxious to invite American manufacturers to London to discuss Far Eastern markets. British mills, it is reported, cannot be modernized until the owners know the extent to which Japan will be permitted to compete.

A significant item in the daily news hinges around the fact contractors for the Atomic Energy Commission have increased their staffs from 37,000 to 50,000 employees. . . . This step seems to be only for the next 12 months. . . . As a probable tie-in the Council of National Defense is making a correct list of our 50,000 physical and natural scientists; who they are, where they are and just what they can do for defense. . . . It's rather an oddity to buy an American flag in Washington at the moment, for many merchants are not stocking up on flags until the fate of the Hawaiian Statehood bill is known. . . . If approved, this will add star No. 49 to Old Glory.

There's good indications that Congress is clearing the home plate for adjournment by the middle of June—unless something very drastic happens in the meantime. . . . The Republicans say quite emphatically that Congress can and should close shop before the conventions and remain closed down until after the presidential election.

Planned Confusion

It is apparent that the restoration of price control will be a major political issue this year, and that it will cut across party lines.

To the uninitiated, the idea is obviously appealing. It suggests the economic Utopia of a low cost of living coupled with the highest family incomes we have ever earned.

It is difficult to puncture so pretty a balloon as this. Yet it is necessary to report that no economist of reputation thinks that price control would work, or that it would create anything except chaos. It has been an utter failure in Europe—even when the toughest police state methods have been used in an attempt to make it a success. Manufacturers and farmers refuse to produce foods and commodities on which an arbitrary low price deprives them of profit. Scarce items—including many basic necessities—can be purchased only in the black market at fantastic prices. The big money is earned by racketeers and gangsters. The shelves of legitimate stores are bare, and the living standards of workers decline.

High prices in this country are the result of irresistible economic and governmental forces. They are not the fault of retailers, manufacturers or any of the special groups which are singled out for criticism. That will still be true whether they go up or down in the future. Price control here would mean our acceptance of a totalitarian device which has never succeeded, and has been a depressive influence.

A new draft law seems almost a certainty as a compromise on President Truman's demand both for the draft and universal military training. Universal training will be abandoned in favor of drafting of youth, which is more than many persons expected because this is an election year.

The reason, of course, that both political parties realize the "cold war" may reach the spontaneous combustion point at any time.

Only once before has American participation in a war seemed so likely that a peace-time Congress decided to expand the armed services by a draft. That was in 1940—over a year before Pearl Harbor.

During World War I draft legislation was enacted six weeks after Congress had declared the existence of a state of war with Germany. In the Civil War Congress did not authorize the drafting of men for the Union Army until March, 1863, almost two years after the firing on Fort Sumter. In the Civil War the age limits for conscription were 20 to 45. The end of World War I saw the limits at 18 through 45. World War II ages at the end of the conflict were 18 through 44. In World War II men from 45 to 64 were required to register but were not subject to induction.

In the Civil War only 50,000 out of 250,000 registered were actually drafted. In World War I 242,000 were registered and 2,800,000 drafted.

In World War II 50,500,000 were registered and 10,200,000 inducted. The draft in World War II furnished 63 per cent of the total 16,000,000 persons entering the armed services.—Sap Angelo Standard.

National politics, Democratic brand, become more confusing daily. Hardly a day passes that some element of the party does not throw rocks at President Truman.

Presently the attacks come from the Americans for Democratic Action sector. This is the organization headed now by Leon Henderson and numbering several Franklin D. Roosevelt heirs, including Mrs. Roosevelt, in its membership. It is a small body, but extremely noisy, and dedicated more and more to the creation of a political Roosevelt memorial association.

Two of the Roosevelt boys, Franklin Jr. and Elliott, have just written off President Truman and Henry Wallace in favor of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The two sons of the late president say the incumbent of the white house won't do, and that Wallace is not carrying out father's ideals and traditions, either. They think the former supreme commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Europe would.

The two young men are, of course, entitled to their political opinions. They are, however, not necessarily qualified to say what their father might or might not have done had he remained alive.

They are naive in their willingness to accept General Eisenhower as the Moses to lead them out of what they regard as a political morass.

First of all, there is no indication that General Eisenhower will give any consideration, much less sympathetic consideration, to the suggestion that he accept the Democratic nomination.—Crockett Courier

You cannot teach a child to take care of himself unless you will let him try to take care of himself. He will make mistakes; and out of these mistakes will come his wisdom.—H. W. Beecher.

Build This Set of Lawn Furniture Yourself.

If in need of lawn furniture, build it yourself and save money. Full size patterns are available that simplify building the matching chairs and settee illustrated above. A smaller size chair, suitable for children two to eight years of age, can also be constructed from a pattern. Youngsters will be happy to join the family circle if they have a chair they can call their own. Nothing seems to be quite so important to the young ones as having things "just like Dad's."

The Full Size Woodworking Pattern provides a complete list of materials needed, step by step directions and full size patterns for cutting each part. It's the dress pattern idea applied to the flat surface of lumber. No special tools or skill are required. All the materials specified by each pattern are stock size and readily available at lumber yards everywhere. So, for fun over a weekend, build one or more of these pieces. Get the youngster to help. Have him sandpaper each piece, let him hold the pieces as you drill holes. Explain why you use glue and screws at every joint to hold parts together and to keep moisture out. If he's lent a hand building this chair you'll find him taking considerably better care of it.

Materials for two chairs can be purchased for less than one chair costs ready made. Make adult size chairs from Pattern No. 32 and a matching settee from Pattern No. 39. Indians Had Rubber Balls
When Columbus landed on the island of Santo Domingo on his first voyage he found the young Indians playing with balls made of elastic resin. He took samples of this resin back to Ferdinand and Isabella and it became known in the Spanish language as caucho. Joseph Priestley, the famous discoverer of oxygen, saw a small ball of this elastic gum in 1770. He found that when it was rubbed over pencil writings it eliminated them, so he called it rubber.

Terrifying as is the prospect of atomic energy running wild in the hands of a generation of men morally and spiritually unprepared to handle it, even more thrilling is the prospect of a Divine Will subjecting even such a diabolic thing as the atomic bomb to discipline and control.

All cooking of vegetables reduces the Vitamin C content, but tomatoes and potatoes, when baked, manage to retain most of theirs. To insure an adequate supply of this vitamin, it's best to use some fresh fruit, especially citrus, every day.

Serve Stuffed Cauliflower for Dinner
(See recipes below)

Meat-Shy Meals

IF YOU CAN'T GET THE meat variety you want for meals, or if you just want to serve something different, glance over the main dish ideas I've planned for you today. These are all protein-rich foods and will do nicely for a main course either for a luncheon or simple supper. All recipes have flavor value plus, and many of them will teach you new cookery tricks with foods that are real treats when properly prepared.

If you are serving heavy eaters with these dishes, plan a calorie-rich dessert that will completely satisfy the appetite. These dishes go well with rich, tasty pies, cakes and whipped cream desserts.

THIS CAULIFLOWER DISH makes a complete meal and turns out pretty on a platter when served with broiled tomato halves and choice mushroom caps, also broiled.

Stuffed Cauliflower
(Serves 4 to 6)
1 large head cauliflower
5 tablespoons butter or substitute
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups hot milk
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 cup shredded American cheese
Salt, pepper
2/3 cup chopped mushrooms
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
Broiled mushroom caps
Broiled tomato halves

Cook the cauliflower in boiling, salted water until tender. Melt three tablespoons butter in top of double boiler, blend in flour, then milk, gradually, stirring constantly. When thickened, add mustard, cheese, salt and pepper to taste. Sauté the chopped mushrooms in two tablespoons butter. Add the crumbs and two tablespoons of the cheese sauce. Place the cooked cauliflower on a round platter, spread the flowerets apart and fill with stuffing. Pour remaining sauce on top of cauliflower and garnish the plate with the broiled tomatoes and mushrooms.

Tamale Loaf
(Serves 8)
1 large onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 quart canned tomatoes
1 1/2 cups corn kernels
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon salt
2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups yellow cornmeal
3 eggs
1 cup ripe olives, seeded and chopped

Brown onions and garlic in oil. Place in large, heavy pot with tomatoes, corn, chili powder, butter and salt. Mix milk and cornmeal and add. Cook until very thick, about 20 minutes, but stir occasionally being careful not to scorch. Then beat in whole eggs, one at a time. Turn half the mixture into a loaf pan or baking dish. Top evenly with chopped olives and cover with remaining cornmeal mixture. Cover and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 45 minutes. Cool slightly in pan. Cut into thick slices and serve with a well-flavored tomato sauce.

The tamale loaf will make a complete meal when served with a tossed green or tossed citrus salad with Roquefort cheese dressing.

The red color of vegetables is due to their acid, and needs to be kept that way. Tomatoes have enough acid to keep their color, but beets and red cabbage may need a bit of lemon juice or white vinegar in their water to keep red. Sauces and toppings enhance most vegetables. Cheese and white sauce are old favorites, but you might try mustard sauce with green beans, crumbled bacon and bread crumbs over spinach and hollandaise sauce over asparagus.

Visitors in the Frank Jackson home last week-end were their daughter and family from Big Spring. Comment No. 1—Politics is o.k., some good and some bad. But is it plausible when our lodges are church es use politics to promote or elect All these years we have jumped on "steam roller tactics" in institutions which should be held dear to the American citizen. Why should we holler about the Pope of Rome making a political speech when even worse tactics are often used in local set up. When we learn to keep politics out of our schools, churches and lodges then perhaps we can elect more efficient government officials—Yours, George.

Mrs J M Humphries recently underwent treatment in a Rotan hospital.

Some of the Hamlin citizens ask us how McCaulley rates all the rain? Well it's like this folks, we have been dry a long, long time, we never lost faith in the rainmaker and there could have been a little praying along with a lot of hoping and besides there is lot of good folks in these parts. We don't know quite all the answers but maybe this will satisfy the questions of the folks who are still dry, anyway we hope

THIS IS AN ANAGRAM. The four scrambled words tell a well-known truth these days of scrambled budgets.

You may have to do a little figuring to discover that it says: "ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN"—but it doesn't take much figuring to realize what a great bargain your electric service really is!

Your pocketbook tells you that living costs have sky-rocketed—that nearly everything costs more nowadays. But not your electric service! The average family served by the West Texas Utilities Company still gets twice as much electric service for its money as it did 20 years ago!

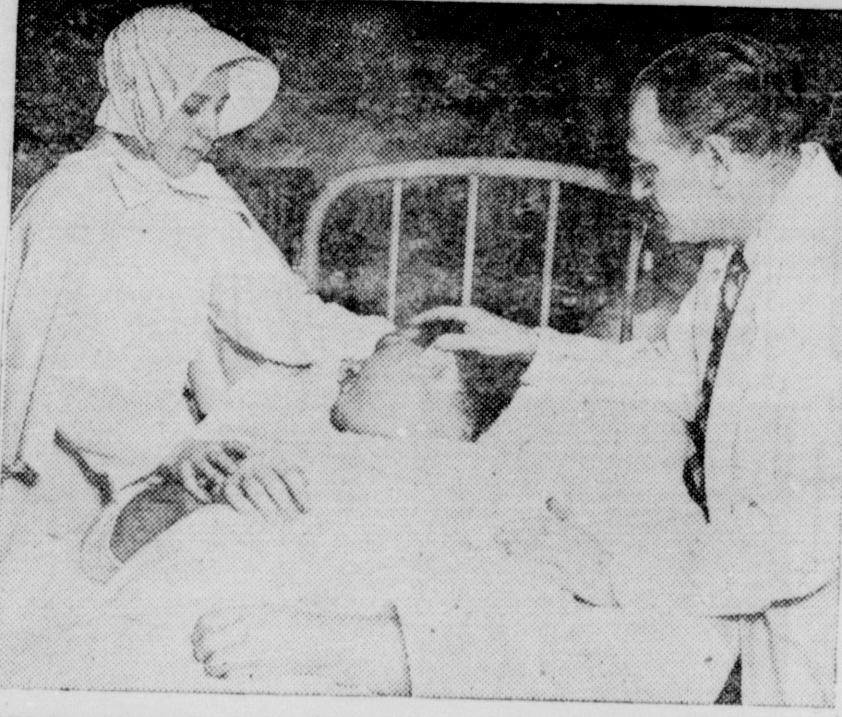

Check your budget and ask yourself what other item does so much to make life easy and comfortable—at such little cost!

SCIENCE AND FAITH FIGHT CANCER. A patient suffering from Hodgkin's disease, a cancer-like lymphatic condition, receives the ministrations of both medicine and religion. Here Sister Anne Mary of the Sisters of Charity of Mount Saint Vincent and Dr. Antonio Rottino, director of research and treatment at St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City examine a patient who has been receiving treatment with nitrogen-mustard. Research with this chemical, developed as a poison gas during the war, is being conducted in many hospitals as a possible treatment for Hodgkin's disease, leukemia and bone cancer. Many cancer research projects are subsidized by the American Cancer Society which holds its annual fund drive in April.

Evil thoughts, lusts and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgement, if virtue and truth build a strong defense—George Baker Eddy

Matin Dies must have read the Pot-Shots because he has withdrawn from the Senate race. He may have something, it is difficult for any man to be elected to a high of money. Sometimes a hillbilly government position without plenty band and a Texas Rose and passing the barrel gets the job done as far as being elected but after election then what?
